

CANAL BILL IN THE HOUSE

Mr. Williams Moves to Cut Appropriation.

CARRIES $11,000,000

Sharp Debate Over the Matter of Expenses — Senator Tillman Argues for His Campaign Fund Measure.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 8.—Reading of the Panama canal appropriation bill was resumed in the House on the convening of that body yesterday. The first amendment was presented by Mr. Williams. He moved to cut the appropriation from $16,500,000 to $6,858,333, believing that this latter sum was sufficient to meet the needs of the commission to Jan. 15 next. He had taken the indebtedness of the commission, which they had stated as $4,500,000, and had added to this the December estimates amounting to $2,358,333.

Mr. Tawney said it was impossible to aggregate from the estimates the liability of the commission due in December on equipment purchased by the commission. Mr. Williams contended that these supplies were not to be delivered until June, and payment need not be made until delivery. An amendment to that of Mr. Williams was offered by Mr. Prince (Ill.), making the appropriation $10,000,000, which sum, he said, was sufficient to meet all emergency necessities. He also opposed the issuance of bonds. Mr. Burton (Ohio) questioned the necessity of the purchase of forty-three steam shovels, costing something less than half a million dollars, should it be decided to have the work done by contract. Replying, Mr. Mann (Ill.) stated the commission and engineers had concluded that the equipment needed for the work was necessary, no matter how the work was done.

The entire appropriation was advocated by Mr. Payne of New York. Mr. Clark of Missouri declared that in his opinion discrimination was being made against the territory drained by the Mississippi river, and maintained that cheaper all water rates could be made from Pittsburgh by way of New Orleans than by New York. Mr. Wanger of Pennsylvania stated that there was a line of steamers plying between New Orleans and Colon, but that it did not give rates as advantageous as by the government's own boats from New York. "Why don't some of those steamers run from New Orleans?" demanded Mr. Clark. "I understand the port of New Orleans was closed during a part of last season," replied Mr. Wanger.

The House rejected the amendment of Mr. Williams fixing the amount of the canal appropriation at $6,858,333, and adopted an amendment fixing the amount at $11,000,000.

VICE PRESIDENT NAMES REGENT.

Mr. Lodge and Mr. Bacon to Serve on Board of Smithsonian Institute.

At the beginning of yesterday's session of the Senate the vice president designated Messrs. Lodge and Bacon to serve on the board of regents of the Smithsonian Institute. The Senate granted a request made by Mr. Culbertson for the printing of a document prepared by Allison Mayfield, a member of the railroad commission of Texas, in reply to attacks made before the Interstate Commerce Commission on the railroad laws of today by Victor Morawetz of New York, when the latter was before the committee as a witness.

At the instance of Mr. Gallinger a resolution directing the committee on naval affairs to investigate the condition of the old frigate Constitution, with a view to its repair, was adopted. Mr. Tillman called up and spoke on his resolution calling upon the secretary of the treasury for information as to whether the reports of bank examiners show the payment of campaign contributions by national banks. He conceded that the secretary might not have the facts wanted, but he thought he ought to have.

Incidentally, Mr. Tillman said that he had been informed that the comptroller of the currency has been investigating the subject of bank contributions with the view of instituting legal proceedings. The Senate passed Senator Tillman's resolution and at two o'clock went into executive session.

Senator Allison, chairman of the Republican caucus of the Senate announced the personnel of the committee to fill vacancies on committees as follows:

TAMMANY IN A PANIC

Disturbed by Possibility of Recanvass.

MURPHY HURRIES TO FRONT

No Merry Christmas This Year in the Wigwam — Complete Recount May Result in Hearst's Election.

New York, Dec. 8.—The unanimous decision of the appellate division of the supreme court sustaining the demand of William R. Hearst that the ballots cast for mayor in certain districts at the last election be not only recounted but also recanvassed, has caused a panic in Tammany Hall. The court of appeals is yet to be heard from, but Tammany has little hope that this court will reverse the decision. A recanvass has been desperately opposed from the beginning by Mayor McCallan's lawyers, and it is now the general belief that if the court of appeals decides in favor of Hearst, McCallan's slender plurality on the face of the election returns may be almost if not quite upset. The mayor has stopped state-making, Charles F. Murphy is hurrying back to New York from Mount Clemens, and Tammany office-holders are at last thoroughly frightened.

What a recanvass may mean was shown last week when four ballot boxes were opened. The number of ballots in three of the boxes did not correspond with the number on the tally sheets, and it was found that fourteen legal ballots cast for Hearst had not been counted by the election inspectors. Moreover, there were in the boxes fifty-two clearly illegal McClellan ballots which had been counted. These ballots were marked with stars and other figures not recognized by the ballot law and were plainly so marked for the purpose of identification; that is, to satisfy the purchasers of the votes that the goods had been delivered. There are, in all, 1948 legal boxes; so it will be seen that a general recanvass is a serious proposition for Tammany. McClellan's apparent plurality is less than 3,500. A change of two votes from McClellan to Hearst in each election district would, therefore, result in Hearst's election.

Should the court of appeals sustain the appellate division of the supreme court, it would probably take several months to recanvass the vote if Hearst persisted in the demand to open nearly all the ballot boxes. It would be a question, then, whether McClellan could get a certificate of election or whether he would hold over until a final decision was rendered. The Hearst lawyers will use every legal expedient to prevent the issuance of a certificate of election. As a holdover, the Hearst lawyers say, McClellan could make no appointments and it is doubtful whether he could perform some other functions of his office. It has been the custom of Tammany mayors to serve as Santa Claus by distributing the offices a day or two before Christmas. There will be a departure from the custom this year. The mayor has let it be known that he will announce no appointments until January 1 and he may not be in a position to announce any then; so there is no talk of a merry Christmas at Tammany Hall these days.

Hearing on Ballot Boxes Monday.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 8.—The court of appeals will hear the argument of the appeal in the New York ballot box cases Monday. The attorneys will be allowed to bring into court the original tally sheets involved in the dispute. William R. Hearst is seeking to recanvass as well as to recount the ballots in the second election district of the Sixth Assembly district.

It Takes Nerve

Everything depends upon your nerves. It is nerve force that causes the motion of your body; it is nerve force that causes your heart to pulsate, and send the blood through your veins; it is nerve force that causes your stomach to digest food, your kidneys to filter the blood, and the liver to secrete bile. In fact, nerve force is the power that runs your body, so if you feel worn-out, irritable, nervous, cannot sleep, or eat well, have pain or misery anywhere, your nerves are weak, and your system run-down. To restore this vitality take Dr. Miles' Nerve which will strengthen and build up the nerves. You cannot be healthy without strong nerves.

"For eighteen years Dr. Miles' Nerve and Anti-Pain Pills have been my close companions. Early in married life, while raising children, my nerves became all worn-out—could not sleep, had no appetite, indigestion very bad, and had such awful dizzy spells. Then I began using Dr. Miles' Nerve, and at once I began to improve, and soon found myself in perfect health."

MRS. S. L. YOUNG, 324 Pittsburg St., New Castle, Pa. Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

THE STORY OF VINOL INSURANCE CLERK IN IT

Received Money of Security Life.

AS A STATE EMPLOYEE

Insurance Department Drawn Into the Scandal—Mrs. Harper a Beneficiary—Large Sums Paid.

New York, Dec. 8.—William A. Butts, paymaster of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance company, was the first witness before the insurance investigators yesterday. Charles M. Turner, president of the Security Mutual Life Insurance Company of Binghamton, also had another turn on the witness stand. He said his company had paid $1,000 a year to a Mr. Keefe, a clerk in the New York state insurance department, to perform some duties as actuary of the Security Mutual. "It did not occur to me," said Mr. Turner, "that this conflicted with Mr. Keefe's duties to the insurance department."

When Mr. Butts had shown he was unfamiliar with the details of payments in connection with the estate of Edward B. Harper, who, as president of the Mutual Reserve, bequeathed to Frederick A. Burnham the management of the company, Mr. Hughes recalled the company's book-keeper, John A. Hyland.

It appeared that money in large amounts was paid by the cashier to officers of the company and charged "to the account of the estate of Edward B. Harper." There was a payment of $8,000 to Mr. Butts, paymaster, and one of $2,250 to M. B. Moss, metropolitan agent, both on Nov. 4, 1896. Then, on Feb. 11, 1897, the sum of $7,500 was paid to Mrs. Emma M. Harper and G. W. Harper, executor and executor of Edward B. Harper. The check for this was indorsed to Annie Davis, who, according to the witness, was a sister of Mrs. Harper.

Mr. Hughes called attention to a book entry showing that in 1898 $38,000 had been paid to the different persons and charged to the account, while $21,000 had been restored and credited thereto. Beyond giving the bare figures, as shown on the books, Mr. Hyland was unable to explain the transactions.

The payments to Mrs. Harper on account of the estate had continued up to the present time, said Mr. Hyland, the money being drawn against commissions. The aggregate amount drawn against the estate in favor of the widow had been $134,067.

"At what rate is she now being paid?" "She gets one-third of 20 cents per $1,000 on insurance still in force, written prior to July 2, 1895."

"Are any amounts being paid to President Burnham out of this?" "Not to my knowledge."

Mr. Butts, returning to the stand, testified to handing $8,000 to Mr. Burnham, without receiving a voucher or knowing for what the cash was to be used. This was the $8,000 he received on account of the Harper estate.

George W. Eldridge, vice president of the Mutual Reserve, who was on the stand Wednesday, was called again. He was asked to explain why payments were being continued under the old Harper contract. He replied that Mr. Harper or his estate had been entitled to a percentage of receipts indefinitely. As to his former testimony, that Mrs. Harper had received only $45,000, he said it had not been his intention to make such an assertion. He could not remember that the Harper contract had ever been declared invalid. The payment to President Burnham on account of the estate had ceased after a resolution of the trustees in August, 1895, he said.

Why an excess of $21,000 had been paid on account of the estate in 1895 he did not know, except that he had "general recollection that there was some mistake in drawing the checks and making the vouchers."

The Binghamton insurance concern C. M. Turner admitted, once employed as consulting actuary a man connected with the state insurance department. "Who was he?" asked Atty. Hughes.

"Mr. Keefe."

"How long was he your consulting actuary?" "I don't recall."

"Was he in the insurance department at the time?" "Yes."

"What did you pay him?" "One thousand a year."

"What was his salary in the insurance department?" "I don't know about that."

Mr. Turner said it never occurred to him that Mr. Keefe was an employee of the state. He was sure that his public duties were not interfered with.
